FOREIGN AND POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

Slule, the 23rd September 1923.

It is published for general information that under the newly introduced Afghan Frontier Regulations to secure entry into Afghanistan, European and American travellers must be in possession of General passports duly visa by the Afghan Consul-General at Simla, or the Afghan Consul at Bombay.

Travelers to Afghanistan via the Khyber route will observe delay and possible detention at the border by securing endorsements on their passports after obtaining the Afghan visa. During the cold weather passports will be submitted at the office of the Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province, Peshawar, and at the office of the Political Agent, Khyber, during the summer months.

European British subjects are advised in their own interests to call at the British Legation on arrival in Kabul, and both they and other European and American travellers are warned that unless they have secured personal invitations from the Afghan Government or from one of the Legations they will find considerable difficulty in securing accommodation in Kabul.

No. 318.—The following resolution of the Government of India is republished:—

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

FOREIGN TRADE.

Bombay, the 2nd October 1922.

No. 6143.—The following papers are published for general information:—

(1) Letter from the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India to the United Kingdom,

RECEIVED
No. 11111, dated the 18th August 1922.

I am directed by the High Commissioner to forward Mr. Chadwick's Administrative Report on Indian Trade Commissioners for 1921-22 and to add the following remarks:

5. The constitution of the Indian Trade Commissionership was originally an experiment, and, as some people thought, a rather unorthodox one. But thanks to Mr. Chadwick's knowledge, zeal, tact and sound judgment, it has become an accepted service, and the High Commissioner thinks that the building up of this admirable agency is an achievement on which Mr. Chadwick can most deservedly pride himself.

6. As Mr. Chadwick has indicated, his department is confined primarily to the development of Indian Industries and Indian export trade, and he has given as adequate a summary in paragraph 4 of his Report of the lines on which he has carried out this policy. The High Commissioner would add that Mr. Chadwick has covered ground in giving all information that he could legitimately afford to those who needed it, and has never adopted the attitude of some officials that this or that is not really their concern. He has won the Trade Commissionership a real power in the City, and one which is thoroughly appreciated, as the High Commissioner knows, by those who have dealings with it, while he has maintained excellent and friendly relations with other Departments, such as the Department of Customs, Trade, and has brought a constant flow of valuable information on an immense variety of matters to the Government of India.

The enormous progress in the evolution of such a well-ordered enterprise indicated in paragraph 4 of this Report speaks for itself as to the growing appreciation of Mr. Chadwick's efforts by those whom it was meant to serve.

7. Mr. Chadwick's activities, moreover, have by no means been confined to the regular field of the Trade Commissionership. As he modestly submits in the latter part of his Report—paragraph 8, et seq.—he has had a variety of other work and has done it admirably; for instance, his activities in connection with the British Industries Fair and the India Preference Scheme, his activities in the Empire Cotton Growing Corporation, and the British Empire Exhibition, and the Government of India have, the High Commissioner is pleased to mention, fully appreciated the very full information which Mr. Chadwick was able to furnish to them on the subject of Dyes.

8. Mr. Chadwick, in paragraphs 11-20 of his Report, gives special acknowledgment to the services of a number of his subordinates. But while fully appreciating the work of these officials, the High Commissioner thinks that the success of the Department is due, first and last, to Mr. Chadwick himself. Future Trade Commissioners will be very materially helped by the strong and sure foundations which Mr. Chadwick has laid.

3. The number of letters received in the office and the number of replies in each of the last four years is as follows:—

	Letters received.	Letters despatched.	Number of replies or verbal replies.
1918-19	1,204	8,730	1,807
1919-20	1,221	18,236	1,068*
1920-21	1,569	7,866	2,127
1921-22	1,728	7,728	2,431

* Five months only.

† Nine months only.

As explained in the last report the figures of 1919-20 spring up so quickly chiefly on account of the work in connection with securing passages seawards for commercial men—the outcome of 1918. That figure has, however, been fully maintained, in spite of the severe trade depression throughout 1921. The figures of despatches include everything in the nature of a despatch. It is impossible to record answers to all letters and therefore only for information. No work is done over the telephone in India, and the enquiry is quickly made, from one subject to another, by the clerical staff itself without putting the enquiry through to one of the senior officers. In India most of such enquiries and answers dealt with by the staff would be the subject of a letter. The figures so far for the current year both in letters and enquiries are in advance of those of last year of the same time. These figures seem to show that the office is, both getting better and better known, and is being more and more used.

4. The Director-General of Commercial Intelligence sends us each week a very short and excellent table of commercial news. To this is attached, in the briefest form, in the office any immediately require information and also a list of important commercial publications received in the office during the week. The note that prepared is printed and distributed among heads and business houses. Many have expressed their appreciation of this and many, I know, keep them carefully. The weekly circulation at the end of March 1922 had reached 315. One interesting thing was that copies had reached India and requests were received from two widely distant ports in India to post copies regularly to them. This unusual service in view of the information is originally derived from India. Facts are simply given. Comment and discussion are avoided. We are greatly indebted to the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, Calcutta, for his constant co-operation.

5. It gradually became clear that there was frequently a very small, but who is asked a very real demand for many of the small brochures issued by the various Departments of Government such as Finance, Geological, Agriculture, etc., dealing with particular economic subjects, as well as a wider demand on copies of Acts & bye-laws. The action is to publish in small shape at nothing with letters a circular list of their most recent publications ready for sale to the public in the shape of 1921. Between December 1921 and March 1922, 205 of such publications were sold. They are not publications which appeal to the general public, but are frequently of great use to the person who is interested in that particular matter. More can still be done in this matter. Care was also taken to send such publications what seemed to the publisher interested persons, which appeared in that class of subjects. I am not referring here to well-known publications, such as the Review of Trade, or the Report of some very important like-wise.

6. In order to help the Indian exporters the preparation of a series of short compact bulletins on the commercial aspects of the various Indian products was commenced, giving as far as possible the commercial specifications required for export use, the prevailing trade terms and conditions, the customary methods of sale, the chief uses, particular of the chief foreign markets in India and India had to make. Attention has first been given to the mineral products of India, some of which might be of interest in having the very able assistance of Dr. Coggins Brown, who was later followed by Mr. Fox. Dr. Coggins Brown prepared and sent to India a series of bulletins on Minerals, Iron, Manganese, Coal, Petroleum, Salt, Soda, Lime, Lead, Zinc, Copper, Tin, Silver, Gold, etc., and also on the various kinds of Indian products, such as Cotton, Jute, Sugar, etc. These have all been published or are in the process of publication, and have been widely recognized as the best and most reliable for export of these goods from India. These have all been prepared by the Trade Commission and its office. There will, I believe, always be some such special bulletins.

7. Special work.—The two years under review saw a full share of special work falling on the Trade Commission and its office. There will, I believe, always be some such special work.

8. Indian Exhibitions.—The Arts and Crafts Exhibition, Lahore, and the Arts and Crafts Exhibition, Delhi, both part of the British Industries Fair at the White City took in 1921 and 1922. Bombay and Madras also participated in that of 1921 and Madras in the one of 1922. Mr. Hearn and Mr. Hearn, the Arts Officer of the United Provinces and the Punjab, respectively, were present at the 1921 Fair and Mr. Hearn, the Director of Industries in Madras, at that of 1922. At the 1922 Fair Mr. Hearn, now, a.s., was in charge of it as a member from Bombay, India. The general trade depression in 1922 was exceptionally severe and consequently the work very dull. In spite of this the number of orders for the 1922 Fair amounted to £5,771 or £9,482 in 1921. In order to help the Provinces in their early matters of importance, as export trade, it was suggested that prices offered at the Fair could be followed through the Trade Commission's office and that that office would collect the amounts due before despatching the goods and

37. The office was created as Headquarters by order of the Government of India and Provincial officers who were borne on special duty or for special inquiries, viz., Mr. Hardcastle who came with a view to inspecting British India at Mount Siam, Phanghe and other agricultural implements. Messrs. Hard, Birch and Blaine in regard to the British Industries Fair, and Mr. Nelson for preliminary inquiries affecting the proposed representation of Burma in the British Empire Exhibition.

38. Office organization.—With the appointment of a High Commissioner for India in September 1905 the office of the Indian Trade Commissioner became directly subordinate to him. The proved of the position, however, in the office, by defining more clearly its functions, by establishing more clearly its position, and to its personnel, by making it not such a single-headed body. The position of a High Commissioner, with a Trade Commissioner as one of his subordinates, is now well known and recognized in London. Many found it difficult to understand the position of a Trade Commissioner, who appeared to be merely there and who only admitted to an indirect subordination to one of the departments in Whitehall, the India Office. The appointment of a High Commissioner required his position in their eyes, and in this way, in addition to the advice, assistance and control which the office has directly received the appointment has been of the greatest advantage to the Trade Commissioner.

39. It has fortunately had more regular help from qualified assistants than in the first two years of its work. Mr. Eire who joined in September 1910 continued with me, and in July 1910, Mr. R. D. Addleton the Bombay Government joined the office. Mr. Addleton had long been looked for, as I had known of a permanent Indian Assistant and had been expecting him for two years. Mr. Dayne as the Imperial Minister, Messrs. Burton was attached to this office and also continued to represent India in London. Messrs. Burton has already been made of some of his work. He also dealt with all inquiries affecting metals and minerals which came into the office and was extraordinarily successful in gaining the confidence and good opinion of businessmen. He was succeeded by Mr. Free who is following in the same line.

40. In 1910 the clerical establishment was also an entirely new one owing to the retirement of the ladies, who had helped me during the war and their substitution by ex-servicemen. The staff is paid on the unclassified Treasury scale. The work was entirely new, so to speak one of them; but they have all worked with kindness and interest. I would especially mention Mr. Butler for his work on wheat and Mr. Butler for the cottons with which he has attended to the general information.

41. Messrs. and Mr. Eire in some instances have been helped suitably and have prepared in a most satisfactory manner. Messrs. Burton has been invaluable in his sphere and is the only one now left of those who originally joined the office. The composition of most of the other posts have changed three or four times. The total cost of the office, including all salaries and all other posts has changed three or four times. The total cost of the office, including all salaries and all other posts has changed three or four times. The total cost of the office, including all salaries and all other posts has changed three or four times.

42. The object of the office is to strive in all ways, within the limitations mentioned in paragraph 3 above to aid Indian industries and Indian trade. The work is twofold in its nature and much of it is done by personal interview. It is in this phase the small duties in inquiries which appear to be the most important. The prompt answering of these, even if they apparently are merely small, have brought the most generous thanks from businessmen; whilst the constant inquiry or the response in office such as the one given depends very largely on the extent to which commercial men certainly find me under a very deep debt of obligation. Still from businessmen and other classes of business conditions and business are especially welcome as it is from them that the opportunity to explain the aims of the office. We have throughout received the almost help from all the Home Departments of India with which we have had dealings, from Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations whilst the business houses themselves have attended to our education. An other of general interest between the commercial community and the Government Departments and work on all administrative can be of service both to the Government and to the business world.

exam, he may be required to undergo a re-examination at such future date to be fixed by the Commissioner as may be or may not be the subject of the examination for which he appeared, his success or failure being determined on the results of such re-examination.

(4) No candidate will, on any account, be allowed to take into the examination room ink, steel, lead, compasses or papers of any kind. Any one detected in the violation of this rule, or having recourse to any unfair practice, will be removed from the room, and the answers reported to the Commissioner. The use of mathematical instruments for drawing figures or ruling lines will, however, be allowed.

(5) Candidates whose names are not in the printed list furnished to the Superintendents must submit a written declaration through the Superintendents, giving full particulars as regards to themselves and branch such students as may be possible of their having applied for admission to the examination at the proper time and paid the prescribed fees. The answer-papers of such candidates will not be valued unless it is clear that the omission of their names is due to an oversight of theirs.

(6) Candidates desiring to change their place of examination without previous permission, or appearing at any centre other than the one at which they sought to have appeared according to the notice published in the Gazette, must not expect to have their papers valued or their results published. In all cases where permission has been granted, the superintendent or letter permitting the change, should be produced for the satisfaction of the Superintendents.

(7) Candidates may have to write their answers on both sides of the paper supplied to them and they will receive the necessary instructions on this point in the examination hall from the Chief Superintendent of the examination.

(8) A candidate having completed his paper will rise from his seat and remain standing until the Superintendent takes his answer papers. Any candidate wishing to ask any question of the Superintendent will permit the same course, but will on no account leave his place.

(9) Any papers sent up without the candidate's name and number affixed, will not be valued.

(10) Candidates will not be allowed to take any papers, except their question papers, out of the examination room.

(11) Candidates are forbidden to write down the answer to any question on the question paper itself; they will not be allowed to take any papers except their question papers, out of the examination room.

(12) Candidates are forbidden to tear up papers or to throw ink or papers on the floor. All "spilt liquors, etc." should be left on the desk where the candidate has been sitting.

GANJAM.

Water-supply generally sufficient. Rainfall 40-50 in. Rain 20-30 in. Standing to date about the same as last year. Standing crops fair but much paddy affected in two taluqs. Harvested paddy, ragi and gingelly; cotton fair. Prospects fair.

VILLUPPATTANAM.

Water-supply sufficient except in parts. Transplanting ragi. Sowing to date a little more than the average. Standing crops thriving but paddy suffering from drought in parts of the taluqs of Villupattanam and Tirupattanam. Season generally fair except in Villupattanam where it is unfavorable for wet crops. Prices of ragi and cotton in full swing in the market.

GODAVARI.

Water-supply generally sufficient. Rainfall 20-30 in. Standing to date a little more than last year but dry crops and a little less for wet crops. Standing crops fair. Harvested paddy; cotton fair. Prospects fair.

Water supply sufficient except in tanks. Kites feed above water. Moving shalms and rotting, floating in debris then fed upon. Feeding scraps fish. Harvested gagefly, eastern pond gagefly, fish, Prognosta fish.

ASTIMUTER

Water supply sufficient except in tanks in ponds. Vernal pools common and known and nesting mounds. Sceloporus in side of dry areas a little less than last year; Cnemidophorus in side of wet areas more than in last year. Bounding weeps generally fair. Harvested corn, chicken and maize, cutworms fair; soybeans, ground. Peromyscus generally fair.

REFERENCES

*Detailed data before survey. Wastes largely opaque, sufficient except in raised basins. Temperature 10-13 C. Slight acid; Sulfuric H<sub>2</sub> SO<sub>4</sub> 1.5% in some areas. Strong odors. Some leached. No visible bacteria. Bacteria grow generally but, but partly under surface in pores of the soil of Staphylococcus aureus. Diarrhoeal disease, fever, and gastroenteritis common. Wound in the basin of Gashima and Sural and pain in the throats of Dhoos and Perikhoos. Prospects generally fair, more water apparently needed in the valley of Dhoos.

STILLANT.

Water supply generally sufficient except in tanks. Growing white stink, larvae, and beetles. Formica ruginodis of very small size collected. Stinging wasps few, but only one kept (found on the side of Boggs' Ridge). Mayreriella and Andryella hibernata very common, but small; Andryella not common. Proctos few except in the tanks of Mayreriella and Andryella, and some Andryella noted.

- ANASTASAPUR

Water-supply insufficient. Some  $\frac{1}{2}$  shrubs, herbs and ferns. Scrubage terdiri of dry weeds very well-developed. Standing crops few. Harvested only red and yellow cholems; others fair. Trees very generally fair; some seeds noted especially in being negative in vegetation season.
